All the [REDACTED] members are highlighted in green. The red text still identifies the companies from the Visa case.

FWIW, [REDACTED] is also a member even though they don't want their logo out there.

Exactly right. And I can have the comparison done here. Thanks!

Easy-peasey to compare: [REDACTED] member logo page is here. I will have someone go thru and compare – I guess what we are really looking at is the retailers who aren't in red, if you expect that the ones in red will stick with their existing counsel?

We don't have a list of who has filed claims against AmEx. My expectation is that by and large the companies that filed in Interchange will do the same against AmEx, and will stick with their existing lawyers. So that makes this group the low-hanging fruit. Could you compare it to existing [REDACTED] members. And for sure I need to get you the piece on the proposal. We're nearly done with negotiating the litigation financing, so we know the numbers.

That would be awesome! The question, though, was whether they were already in the Amex case – I'm not sure how this list relates to that question. And I also need a description, please, of the program that you would be offering. Thanks!

The retailers in red were in Interchange. There seem to be a ton of great targets of opportunity.
